(find)	that many of the	em were ashamea	l of (be)	unemployed. I	was very ignorant but not so ign	norant as (imagir	ne) that	when the loss of	f foreign market	ts (push) two million n	nen out of work,	those two millio	n are any more t	o blame than the	e people who (draw)	blanks in a	lottery. But at	that time not	body (care /	admit) that unemp	loyment was in	evitable, because	e this (mean /	/ admit) that it woul	d probably con	ntinue. The mide	dle classes (still	l / talk) idle loafers on th	ne dole" and (say	y)	that
"these men could all fi	ind work if they	(want)	to", and	naturally these	opinions (percolate)	to the wor	rking class thems	elves. I (rememb	er)	the shock of astonishment	it (give)	_ me, when I first	st (mingle)	witl	h tramps and beggars, to find t	hat a fair propo	rtion, perhaps a	quarter, of these	beings whom	I (teach) to re	gard as cynical	parasites, (be) _	decent yo	oung miners and	l cotton-workers (gaze)	_ at their destiny	with the same so	ort of dumb amaz	zement as an ani	imal in a trap.
